CHEEBFULNESS. If we quite forgot our losses
And remembered all our gains
If we looked for people's virtues
And their faults refused to see, And their ratio What, a comfortable, happy, Cheerful place this world would be. ANON.

HAPPINESS. Half the happiness of living
Comes from willing-hearted giving;
Comes from willing-hearted giving;
Comes from sharing all our pleasures.
From dividing all our treasures.
And the other half is loving.
First the Lord, then all things living.
So, each mortal should be sowing
Love needs while his life in growing.
For all happiness in living.
Comes from loving and from giving.

OCTOBER DATS AT THE SHORE.

Dear Cornerites: I will send a few words of greeting from the shore. Maybe some of you will say: "What, at the shore so late!" But here I am, and real comfortable and warm, but on how quiet and still it is, with no one around in the cottages near by. We came down for a few days to get the acreens off and put up for the winter, and expected to nick quite a lot of apples, as we have several trees on our land, but someone had been real kind and picked them for us. Hope they will enjoy them this winter. We are having great tides and the men are getting lots of clams and quahaugs, and they taste pretty fine. It is the 21st day of October, and I guess we won't come down many more times this year, although I think some of us were down every month last year.

I've been away quite a little this fall, but have put up a lot of fruit and pickies of different kinds. Now I must do up my quinces. We raised quite a few. I have already begun making those squash ples; made nine last week. I've not got to many squashee this year, so won't have to make so many. I wish I had a penny aplece for all I've ever made. My, but I would have a lot of pennies!

Hoping many more sisters will write, I sign myself, as ever,
